

BODY OF MAN FOUND IN CAR FROM NELSON

SOUTH PEKIN OFFICIALS FIND
MURDER MYSTERY IN C. &
N. W. CAR.

HAD BEEN BRUTALLY BEATEN

Car Was Made Up in Train at Nelson—Not Remembered There.

(Special to the Telegraph.)

Pekin, Ill., Nov. 21.—The body of a man, supposed to be F. D. Glendenning of New Castle, Ind., was found in a Chicago & Northwestern box car in the South Pekin yards here at 1:30 o'clock Friday morning; and officials of the railway company and of Tazewell county are making an effort to ascertain every movement of the car which was shipped from Nelson, Lee county.

Signs of Murder.

On the left side of the man's head back of the eye, were two ugly wounds, apparently inflicted by some blunt instrument. Blood had oozed from his nose, mouth and ears and his skull was crushed at the left temple. In fact, there was every indication that the man had been brutally murdered.

Identification Card.

In his pocket was a card indicating that he was F. D. Glendenning of New Castle, Indiana, and that he was a member of the Order of Eagles in New Castle. Instructions on the card were to notify his brother in Toronto, Canada, in case accident befell him.

Officials at Work.

Sheriff Fluegel and Deputy Wilson of Tazewell county were in South Pekin all day Friday endeavoring to get some evidence, but none of the railroad employees there had ever seen Glendenning, nor do the members of the Northwestern train crew remember the victim.

Came from Nelson.

The freight train came from Nelson, arriving in South Pekin yards at about 1 o'clock Friday morning, and information to the officials is to the effect that the car in which the body was found was made up at Nelson. Whether the body was in the car when the train was made up at the Lee county terminal of the southern division, or whether it was placed in the car at some station between Nelson and South Pekin is undetermined. Railroad officials are now at work on the case at both ends of the division.

Unknown at Nelson.

Nelson, Nov. 21.—Inquiry at the restaurants and the postoffice here failed to establish that F. D. Glendenning, the New Castle, Ind., man whose body was found in a Northwestern railway car at South Pekin on Friday morning, has ever been in Nelson.

However, the fact that he is not known here is not a proof that he has not been in Nelson recently, for there are many strangers here at all times, the junction of the Southern and Galena divisions making this a center for "travelers."

BLANCHO TO MEET DELEGATES

(Associated Press.)

Mexico City, Nov. 21.—Gen. Blanco will remain in the capital to treat with representatives of Carranza, Villa and Zapata for turning over the reins of government, which it is believed can be effected without bloodshed.

Judge Heard Today Held Poll Tax To Be Illegal

The decision of Police Magistrate Kent in the case of the Township of Dixon vs. Seymour Ide involving the constitutionality of the poll tax, was reversed in an adjourned session of the circuit court this afternoon. Attorneys Watts and Edwards, representing the township, have asked for an appeal to the state supreme court.

Police Magistrate Kent rendered an opinion some time ago, holding that the poll tax law, requiring every male resident in the township, without the city limits of Dixon, to pay the sum of $2 each, was valid as

Michael Keenan Victim Of Strong Arm Man Friday

Was Slugged And Robbed Of Rain Coat While On Way Home

Mike Keenan was slugged and robbed as he walked toward his home on East River street last night. A man jumped upon him just as he was passing an old building and struck him over the head with a club, knocking him down. He then searched him and finding no money, took a raincoat off of Keenan and left him lying alongside the street. He recovered from the blow in a short time and returned to town where he notified the police. An investigation was started but no clue to the guilty party was found.

BIG ATTENDANCE ASSURED THIS EVE.

OPENING OF ELKS' ANNUAL BAZAAR WILL BE MARKED BY LARGE CROWD.

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the Elks annual bazaar at Rosbrook's hall this evening, and with one of the biggest opening nights in the history of the lodge's fair in prospect the committee anticipates an enthusiastic start for the affair. The dressed poultry booth and the dancing will of course be the features of tonight's doings, while short programs will preface the dancing each evening during next week. Music for the dancing this evening will be furnished by the Marquette orchestra.

HUNTERS BRING MUCH GAME

Dr. E. A. Sickles, Nate Morrill, Angier Wilson, Dr. R. L. Baird, Joe Miller, Charles Sheffield, Louis Pitcher, Harry Roe, John Ford and A. C. Handell returned today from a two weeks' hunting trip in Northern Wisconsin.

They reported on their return that they were not allowed to ship their deer out of the state unless the hides had been removed from the carcasses and the carcasses cut into quarters and each quarter well wrapped. All of the deer were frozen and they were left there to be skinned later by the guides and shipped here. The refusal to allow them to ship their deer here in the usual manner is to prevent any possible spread of the foot and mouth disease.

HUNGARIAN NEWSPAPER MAN STRUCK BY PASSENGER TRAIN AT NORTHWESTERN STATION

Alamon Kallai, an editorial writer and reporter for the Hungarian Daily News of Chicago, was struck by Northwestern passenger train No. 29 as it pulled into the passenger station here just before noon today. He was at the depot waiting for the train and absently stepped from the platform onto the tracks immediately in front of the oncoming train. He was struck and thrown for a distance of twenty feet and received painful injuries.

The unfortunate man had been visiting in this city and had gone to the depot to return to his home in Chicago. He purchased his ticket and wandered aimlessly up and down the depot platform for some time. He apparently did not notice the approaching train and stepped onto the tracks in

NEGRO WILL BE QUESTIONED ON FINDING PURSE

AURORA AUTHORITIES SEEK TO LEARN HOW HE FOUND HANDBAG.

MISTAKEN FOR SLAYER'S WIFE

Think Jealous Husband Struck Aurora Woman Thinking She Was His Wife.

(Associated Press.)

Aurora Ill., Nov. 21.—Samuel Strong, a negro waiter on an Illinois Central train, will be questioned upon his return from New Orleans tomorrow on how he came to find the handbag of Miss Jennie Miller, who was struck down at the Free Methodist church yard Wednesday night. Strong turned the handbag over to the conductor of his train at Centrahia.

Abandon Robbery Theory.

The theory of robbery as the motive for the murder of Miss Jennie Miller was abandoned by the Aurora police last night and the entire force of the investigation turned toward finding a man who had quarreled with his wife.

The man sought, the police believe will prove to be the same who crushed the skull of Miss Miller and left her dying in the little church yard of the Free Methodist church last Wednesday evening. It also is believed that he was lying in wait for his wife at the time and that his attack was a case of mistaken identity.

Following is the latest theory of the Aurora mystery upon which Chief Michels of Aurora hopes to arrest the murderer:

For some time a man residing in Aurora had suspected his wife of intimacy with other men. He finally located their rendezvous in the churchyard.

Sees Woman on Scene.

On Wednesday night, shortly before 8 o'clock the husband was returning home. He was either a plumber or a machinist, and carried his tools with him, among them a pipe wrench. As he passed the corner at the Free Methodist church he saw a woman there. In the dim light of the arc he believed she was his wife. He was thrown into a frenzy of jealous rage; he rushed at her, seizing the first instrument of revenge available, the pipe wrench.

The blow of the heavy wrench fell upon the woman's head. She sank

Senior Class In Excellent Home Talent Minstrels

Production Given At Opera House Friday Evening Was Admirably Done

The Senior class of the Dixon High School gave one of the best, if not the best, home talent productions of its kind ever staged in Dixon when they produced the Colonial Minstrels at the Dixon Opera House last evening. The play was given under the direction of Mrs. L. L. Smith and is a great credit to all the participants and to those who had a part in the management of the affair.

The theatre was packed and the audience was highly enthusiastic. Every single feature of the performance was applauded heartily and such exceptional talent was displayed by all of the "actors" and "actresses" that it would be unfair to give special praise to any particular one unless every number on the program was given detailed mention. Several of the young gentlemen and ladies who took prominent parts in the play displayed more real ability than many of the professional actors and actresses that we see. Mrs. Will Smith's training of the students was remarkably fine.

The program was carried through as printed in The Telegraph heretofore.

One exception was the beautiful solo by Miss Josephine Altman, who sang an extra number. The ballads were all splendidly executed and the end men acquitted themselves with credit and kept the house in an uproar with their pranks.

Part two of the program, consisting of vaudeville stunts, was particularly entertaining and part three, in which that classic melodram, "The Fatal Necktie," was produced, was a very clever burlesque in one act.

The following took prominent parts in the entertainment last evening and their work was of an exceptionally high order:

NEW FIVE DOLLAR WILLIAMS ARE HERE

LOCAL NATIONAL BANKS GET A NUMBER OF FEDERAL RESERVE BANK NOTES.

The local National banks have received a number of the new Federal Reserve Bank notes from the newly established Reserve bank at Chicago. The notes differ from the ordinary notes in that they have very little engraving on them and according to secret service men are much harder to counterfeit. They contain an engraving of Lincoln on the front of the note and one representing the Pilgrims landing on Cape Cod and the first sighting of the American continent by Columbus on the back.

FINE COLT SHOT BY HUNTERS

A fine colt owned by C. E. Poisel of Nelson township was shot in the leg by careless hunters at the Poisel farm a few days ago. The colt was an exceptionally fine one and a deal was pending for its sale when it was hurt.

Miss Elizabeth Morris of Amboy attended Mrs. I. F. Edwards' funeral Friday.

DR MOSS AND WIFE HELD UP FRIDAY NIGHT

WOULD BE ROBBER STUCK GUN
IN DOCTOR'S FACE AND DEMANDED MONEY.

DOCTOR "KIDDED" HIM OUT OF IT

Then Followed Man Back to Town—
Police Unable to Catch Amateur Hold-Up.

Dr. and Mrs. Z. W. Moss were held up by an unknown man at the corner of North Galena avenue and Chamberlain street Friday night at about 11 o'clock. The hold up occurred as Dr. and Mrs. Moss were walking to their home from the minstrel show at the Opera House and a number of people were on the streets enroute to their homes. The highwayman failed to achieve his object as Dr. Moss merely ridiculed and laughed at him until he gave up and walked away. Dr. Moss then followed the man over town and told the police of the affair but the would be robber got away.

Approached from East.

Dr. and Mrs. Moss were walking on North Galena avenue near the intersection of Chamberlain street. The robber approached them from the east on Chamberlain street and when he was directly in front of them he pulled a revolver and pointed it at Dr. Moss' head. He ordered the doctor to put up his hands and Dr. Moss obeyed but insisted that the robber had gotten the wrong man and that he didn't want to rob him. He told the hold-up, who appeared to be an amateur to take the gun away

WISCONSIN EXPERT SPOKE ON DAIRYING AND ANIMAL HUSBANDRY FRIDAY EVENING

The Mens' Club of the Dixon Y. M. C. A. held a very successful and entertaining session in the gymnasium of the Y. M. C. A. building last evening. At 6:15 a delicious banquet was served by the ladies of the Y. M. C. A. auxiliary and after the banquet the seventy odd men present listened to a very instructive lecture by Prof. George E. Humphries, head of the department of animal husbandry at the University of Wisconsin on the subject of "The Dairy Cow."

H. A. Ahrens, vice president of the association presided at the meeting. Preston Sellers favored with two selections on the piano before the address of the evening, and Secretary E. T. Bailey announced that plans were going forward for an especially interesting program for the Mens' Club and stated that among the attractions that were booked was the travalgue and lecture on the Yellow

Bailey Suggests Systematic Play For Dixon Young

Tells Woman's Club Home Ties
Must Be Strengthened Also

Secretary E. T. Bailey of the Dixon Y. M. C. A. this afternoon delivered an address on Juvenile Protection at the regular meeting of the Dixon Woman's club which was greatly enjoyed and which furnishes material for much thought on the part of all citizens. Mr. Bailey said in part: This afternoon we are here to study a question more vital than the beauties of nature, for without the object of our study nature would be without appreciation, art without its artists and science without its revealers. And I have no hesitancy in saying that no student of any branch has had a greater task to unfold, a greater chemical to analyze than those who are trying to keep the boy and girl from failure and worthlessness.

Children Plus God.

Realizing that "Great souls are children plus God," certainly the theme this afternoon is worth while and we must become not only interested enough to listen to a paper, but most earnest about this matter and see how we best can protect and safeguard our young.

RUSSIANS ARE BEING ATTACKED ON THREE SIDES

GERMANY HAS BIG EXPECTATIONS CONCERNING BIG BATTLE ON IN EAST.

RUSSIAN RETREAT HAS HALTED

Petrograd Reports Center, Which Had Fallen Back, Has Turned.

(Associated Press.)

London, Nov. 21.—The Berlin correspondent to the General News says: "All Germany is awaiting the result of the great battle along the eastern front against the Russian army which is estimated at 900,000. The Germans control all the roads to Novogeorgievsk and Warsaw. The battle centers at Lodz where the Germans and Austrians are in excellent positions. While new Austrian forces are advancing from the south the Russians are being attacked from three sides."

WAR SUMMARY.

(Associated Press.) The Russian center, which earlier in the week fell back before the German advance, has halted and the latest turn in the campaign will likely have "decisive consequences for the enemy," says a dispatch from Petrograd.

PURSUIT CONTINUES.

According to an official report from Berlin, operations in the east are still further developing. The report says: "The pursuit of the enemy through Milawa and Plock continues. Our offensive movement at Lodz has made progress and east of Czenstochowa the Germans and Austrians have gained ground."

GREAT EXPECTATIONS.

"Germany has great expectations concerning the outcome of the Lodz campaign despite the numerical superiority of the gigantic Russian forces. The Germans have destroyed all the railway and highway bridges and the retreat of the enemy is difficult. The Russians lack arms, ammunition and trained reserves and their defeat here may decide the campaign at last." On the whole there has been no change in the western theatre.

FRENCH MAKE GAINS.

Paris, Nov. 21.—An official statement issued today says: "In the region of Aisne and Champagne and at Neuport we gained some advantage yesterday, and in the vicinity of Verdun and Vosges we also have gained. At certain points our trenches are thirty yards from the enemy."

MOVE TROOPS EAST.

Unofficial advices state that 200,000 German troops are being moved from the west to the eastern theatre. Along the Yser activities have been virtually abandoned on account of the

After he had landed safely Joe went back into the burning house to make sure that everyone else had escaped. A few minor burns were all he suffered.

Former Dixon Lady Was Last Person With Victim

A former Dixon lady is innocently connected with the events surrounding the murder of Miss Jennie Miller the "Aurora Hetty Green," who was so brutally murdered there this week. That lady is Mrs. M. E. Budlong, the last person to be with Miss Miller before she was assaulted near the Free Methodist church yard.

Mrs. Budlong was formerly Miss M. E. Emory, and she is a sister of John Emory, 1503 First street, this city. At one time she conducted a millinery establishment in this city, later going to Elgin where she engaged in the same business, prior to her marriage and removal to Aurora.

from his face or it might be discharged. At this, Mrs. Moss laughed and the robber evidently becoming disgusted with his job turned and walked away.

Followed. He walked south on Galena avenue and Dr. Moss started in pursuit after he had asked Dr. Kost to notify the police. The robber turned east on Boyd street and Dr. Moss and Verne Schrock, who had joined him, continued on over the bridge. The robber walked only a short distance on Boyd street and then turned and started over town following Dr. Moss and Mr. Schrock.

Dr. Moss had changed his appearance as much as possible and waited at the corner of Galena avenue and River street for the man to overtake him. Then he spoke to the robber and asked him what his name was and where he was from. The robber, replied that his name was Martinson and that he lived in North Dixon. Dr. Moss then tried to get his gun, on a pretense that he was in trouble but was unable to do that. He walked with the man to the corner of Galena avenue and First street and then called to Police Officer Whistline, who was standing across the street. At this the robber turned and fled into the alley with officer Whistline and several others in pursuit. He dodged around buildings and box cars until he finally made his get-away.

EIGHT WHITESIDE FARMS QUARANTINED

Special Agent in Charge, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Dr. Hoover, and Dr. Clegg, and the federal government inspectors have quarantined eight farms in Whiteside county, where the cattle are affected with foot and mouth disease. The men worked yesterday in Ustick township where two herds of cattle were under quarantine. These herds were on the Lawrence and Entwhistle farms. The work of investigating farms in Whiteside county continues and this morning Dr. Hoover and Dr. Eaton went to Tampico to inspect herds in that vicinity. Dr. Clark and Dr. Warner are investigating herds in Ustick township today. No cattle were slaughtered yesterday.

THE CARE AND PRESERVATION OF BATTLESHIPS.

The war has now progressed for over three months and its most amazing feature has been the success with which the hostile countries have guarded their battleships.

Thus far not a single battleship has been damaged though a few cruisers which assisted in running around night and getting into deep water have been sunk. Every battleship owned by France, Germany and England at the beginning of the war is still perfect though in some instances hostile spies may have kicked a little paint off their sides while they lay at dock.

This shows the marvelous advance of naval science. Thirty years ago battleships received as hard treatment as half-backs in a de-brutalized football game. They were abused and even shot at by the enemy. Many battleships were riddled and blown up in the Russo-Japanese war and for many decades the shocking cruelties perpetrated against them have gone unprotested.

That a hundred battleships could spend three months within a few hundred miles of each other without so much as tossing a brick is an evidence of the relentless sweep of science.

The new methods used to insure the longevity of the battleship are partly but not entirely known. The vessel is first anchored securely in a spacious harbor. It is then protected by mines, torpedo boats, submarines, barbed wire fences and policemen. In order to minimize the danger of leaks the bottom of the harbor is built up around the ship and in some cases it is quite likely that the latter is fitted with wheels. This enables it to escape more rapidly from mysterious strangers and obviates the danger of sea sickness on the part of the crew.

There is still much nervousness in Europe over the protection of these delicate crafts and new safeguards are being continually thought up. Later on they may be hidden in the cathedrals or taken apart and sent to neutral countries by Parcel Post. But for the present they are quite safe and if kept well painted and protected from rain by canvas they should last through the war—provided swordfish and other terrors of the deep are not allowed to stab them in the thorax after bedtime.

WOULD MODIFY JUVENILE ACT

Sage Foundation Agent Recommends Several Changes in Act.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 21.—Recommendations for amendments to the Illinois Juvenile court act, which is characterized as "one of the best acts of the sort in the country," and for changes in procedure in the Sangamon county juvenile court are contained in the ninth section of the report of Zenas L. Potter, on Springfield's correctional system.

The most important of the proposed amendments to the state law is one to prevent the confinement of children "in any jail, lockup or other place where they may come into contact with adults convicted or under arrest," and one providing for the appointment of woman probation officers to act as referees to hear girls' cases, "a practice now being followed in St. Louis and Chicago with pleasing results."

Dramatic Notes

FAMILY THEATRE

Those who enjoy a good show should see the bill now playing the Family, which consists of the Famous Florenz Trio, two gentlemen and one lady, who do a wonderful acrobatic and tumbling act, and Argo, world's greatest harpist, who renders both the classic and popular selections in a most artistic manner.

Pictures tonight are: Easy Money—Who Owns the Farm; The Terrible Lesson, and The Blind Fiddler.

On Monday night Eugene Walters' famous play of "The Wolf," in six reels, will be given. The following is a short synopsis of the play:

The Story at a Glance.

Hilda MacTavish, daughter of Andrew MacTavish, a Scotch trader in the Hudson Bay country, is a tender, unlearned, gentle girl, placed in the great loneliness of that region, and more lonesome by reason of the almost maniacal hatred of her father, who has been embittered by the early desertion of his wife and believes that "nae wimmen are guid." Jules Beaubien is a French Canadian, a handsome, true woodsman, who has been visiting at the MacTavish home for years, always with ready welcome.

Info that picture of native atmosphere comes William McDonald, a railroad engineer, who, years before, had been responsible for the downfall and death of Beaubien's half-sister. Beaubien, left by his father with the charge to find the half-sister, discovers the fact of her pitiable death and starts out to hunt the man, accompanied by Ba'tiste, his trustworthy friend, a northwestern Nomad. They discover through McDonald's boasting, that he was the betrayer of Annette, and that he is trying to deceive Hilda in the same manner. Jules resolves first to take Hilda away from her home and the flight is accomplished after a violent scene with the maniacal father, who has been led by McDonald to believe in the sincerity of his purposes. McDonald follows the fleeing trio—Jules, Ba'tiste and Hilda. At the Bear Creek Portage the party go ahead while Jules remains behind to meet McDonald and the conflict occurs in dead darkness, ending in the death of McDonald. After one of the most thrilling scenes ever put on the stage. Incidental to this fight the howling of real wolves is produced, bearing out the Canadian Indian legend.

PRINCESS

On Sunday night the Princess theater will show a fine program in a fine two reel feature entitled "The Ruin of Manley," a two reel American feature with Ed Coxen and Winifred Greenwood in the leading roles. This is a story of a ne'er do well who outlives his old life of failure and starts a pigeon farm and makes good to the point of marrying the girl he loves when his land and everything is destroyed by floods. This beautiful story is told in excellent detail and the acting is very good. The other pictures are "The Miner's Peril" a Reliance drama with Arthur Mackley and Florence Crawford in the leading roles. This is a western drama in which the resourcefulness and ready wit of a plucky Mexican girl makes a strong climax. The other picture is entitled "Dad and the Girls," a Beauty comedy with Joseph Harris and Afton Mineer in the leading roles. This is a comedy romance in a business office.

DEMENTTOWN DOINGS

Of course Truth is a woman. So is Untruth. Stop. Be calm ladies until we have finished. And besides it's unfair to throw things at a fellow when he's sitting down and in a position which makes it difficult to dodge. But we have digressed. We said Untruth was also a woman. Proof? You've often heard of Mis-represented.

Circumstances alter cases—as the young man remarked when he traded the solid gold case of his watch for a nickel covering and $6 to boot. Pride goeth before a fall. We know because we have fallen. Yesterday a charming young lady stopped us on the street—we hope the missus doesn't see this—and told us how much her mother enjoyed our efforts in this col. In fact we were informed that the afore mentioned charming young lady's mother thinks the Doings is the very best part of the paper. Modestly we told the boss all about it and suggested that the col. be run on the first page. Imagine the aching void that developed in the neighborhood of our stomach when he informed us that there would be nothing doing, that there was enough damfulness about what we did write for the front page as it is. But we thank the charming young lady's mother for her kind words, anyway.

His Other Home.

The Chinese could speak but little English and the Englishman could speak no Chinese; nevertheless, the dinner went off very agreeably. The two men sat facing one another in silence while a neat Chinese butler served them dish after dish of surprising delay.

There was one dish especially that pleased the Englishman. It was a rich stew of onions, pork, mushrooms, and a dark tender, well-flavored meat that seemed like duck. The Englishman ate heartily of this stew.

Then he closed his eyes, lifted his hands, and shook his head with an air of ecstasy. After this pantomimic compliment to the dish he said, interrogatively "Quack, quack?" "No, no," said the Chinaman, "bow-wow."

GERMANS IN PURSUIT OF RUSS ARE BEATEN

Latest Petrograd Report Says Czar Turns Tables on Foe.

Petrograd, Nov. 21.—The Russian general staff asserts that the Germans have been defeated in a great battle in Poland. It seems apparent that the Russians have halted their retreat and are making a vigorous resistance between the Wartha and Vistula rivers.

There is hard fighting in southwestern Poland on the line of Czenstochova and Cracow, and it is officially announced that the Russian army in that region has captured a large number of Austrians. The Russian left wing in Galicia is reported as making progress and has taken four towns in its westward advance.

The text of the official report is as follows:

"The efforts of the Germans are directed toward breaking our line between the Vistula and the Wartha. Our offensive yesterday was crowned with partial success.

"Northwest of Lodz we captured a battery of German heavy artillery, more than ten machine guns and several hundred prisoners.

"Stubborn actions are developing normally on the Czenstochova-Cracow front where we captured 3,000 Austrians on Nov. 17 and Nov. 18.

"In Galicia we have occupied Wisnka, Gorlice, Dukla and Ujok."

It is unofficially reported that the Russians have made great progress in the siege of Przemyel and are again in possession of important outer defenses. The rumor is that Przemyel will fall very soon.

Dixon Composers Were Extolled By Mrs. Vail

Illinois and Dixon musicians was the theme of the meeting of the music department of the Dixon Woman's club, which was held at the People's church Thursday afternoon, and the afternoon was one of the most enjoyable of the season. For, in addition to a very able paper by Mrs. Morrison H. Vail on Dixon and Illinois composers, some very charming musical numbers were given.

Miss Myrtle Ferne Rice played a piano number of her own composition which was heartily applauded, the young pianist showing marked talent in the construction of her number. She responded with Jane Sterling's "Song Without Words." Mrs. H. W. Harris sang "God Remembers When the World Forgets," and Miss Kathryn Strong played Jessie Gaynor's "Reverie." Both compositions were admirably rendered by the performers.

Dixon Composers.

That Dixon has musicians of real merit, capable of good composition, was shown by Mrs. Vail's paper which in addition to dealing with Theodore Thomas, William C. E. Seaback, Emil Liebling, William Hall Sherwood, Carrie Jacobs-Bond, Jessie L. Gaynor, H. W. Harris, Clarence Eddy and other well known Illinois musicians, told of Dixon's own composers: W. H. Smith, W. F. Strong, Mrs. Maude Ames Goodsell and others. Among those whose works have never been published are Miss Myrtle Ferne Rice and Charles Lowrey. Concerning the Dixon composers, Mrs. Vail said:

W. H. Smith.

"Will H. Smith was born in Norwich, Ontario. He began the study of music with Prof. A. L. Brown of Toronto, practicing first on a melodeon, later on the violin and F flute. He came to Dixon at about the age of twelve. When he was sixteen years old Mr. Smith wrote a set of pieces for the piano called "Forest Flowers." These pieces were published by W. W. Whitney of Toledo, O. About this time Mr. Smith began his band work, playing E flat cornet with the old Light Guard band of Dixon, which was directed by D. S. McCosh. Since then he has had good musical advantages with private teachers and in school. He has had numerous bands under his instruction and for a time directed "Billy" Arlington's minstrel band and orchestra and one season directed the orchestra of the Felix Vincent company.

Music Widely Known.

"Mr. Smith studied harmony, composition and counterpoint with William H. Dana of Warren, O., who is known as an authority on these subjects, having studied with the best masters in Europe, and has a number of text books published and used in various schools. Mr. Smith's band and orchestra compositions are written under the nom de plume of W. H. Montell and are widely known, being played by the best professional and amateur organizations. "German Artillery March" was played at the coronation of Queen Wilhelmina of Holland. Another march, "Gen Lee," was played at Havana, Cuba, by the Second regiment band of Chicago when the Stars and Stripes were raised in place of the Spanish flag. Mr. E. T. Smith (now residing in Dixon and playing cornet with the Marine band) was the band master of the Second Regiment band at that time.

"Mr. Will Smith does not confine his compositions to marches, etc., but has written all classes of music. He not only writes but engraves his own music."

Tells of Prof. Strong.

Of the head of Strong's College of Music, Mrs. Vail said: "W. F. Strong came to Dixon in 1899 and was connected with the college until 1903. During that time he has had approximately over two thousand different pupils and has graduated over 300 in various classes and courses. Some of these graduates have advanced in their music in this country and in Europe until they have become prominent as performers and teachers.

FRENCH LOSE 20,000 IS REPORT IN BERLIN

Germans Expect Great Victory in Northwest Poland.

Berlin, Nov. 21.—Holland reports that in the fighting near Dixmude the French lost 20,000 men and 1,500 British were drowned in the Yser canal.

The French positions at Chauvaucourt, near St. Mihiel have been blown up by German mines with heavy losses to the French.

Despite the great number of Russian troops in Poland, estimated by German military experts at 900,000,

"Hundreds of others have taught in their humble way throughout the middle west and have radiated a musical atmosphere that had its beginning in the Dixon college and have always maintained the standard courses of study raised in their classes.

"Mr. Strong has written music for various instruments. On May 1st and 2nd, 1904, he gave a May festival in the M. E. church for chorus, organ and orchestra, mainly of his own compositions. There were twenty in the orchestra and a chorus of sixty. The church was filled at both performances.

"In 1903 the Ladies' Home Journal published his "In the Twilight" reverie.

"For twenty years Mr. Strong has developed a series of instruction books for piano instruction called "Buds and Blossoms," which are sold widely throughout the United States and are gaining popularity.

"In 1911 he chartered the present college of music. Until the present time over fifty have completed courses in different classes.

"Among the advanced graduates are James Sutton, concert cellist, Canton, O.; violinists: Raymond Meyer, Benjamin Holdren, Walter Stott, Frank Salisbury, Della Strong; pianists: Erna Hunter, Hazel Neff, Alice Herbst, Eva Lawton, Isabel Van Epps Florence Hoffman, Viljo Beels."

Mrs. Goodsell, composer.

The following was read from Rock County Banner of Clinton, Wis., of April 23, 1914:

"At the last meeting of the Twentieth Century club one of the most enjoyable features of the program was the singing by Mrs. Herron of three songs composed and written by Mrs. Maud Ames Goodsell of Dixon, Ill. They were beautifully rendered and the sweetness of the melodies made a deep impression on all present.

"Mrs. Goodsell, who has acquired fame as a soloist and teacher of vocal music, has but recently taken up composing for publication.

"The songs referred to have only recently been published, the titles of which are "Good Night, Dear One, Good Night," "When Thoughts Wander Back" and "Just Today."

"Mrs. Goodsell is now at work on two more pieces that will soon be ready for the publishers. She writes both music and words, preparing the copy in the "Maud Ames Shop," a name she has chosen for her studio at her home. Only a small portion of her time can at present be devoted to this work, as she has a class of thirty-five pupils in voice culture, is the soloist in one of the largest churches in Dixon, where she has lived the past eight years. Before going to Dixon, she taught music for two years in Sterling, Ill.

Showed Early Aptitude.

"Mrs. Goodsell early in life showed a fondness for music and when but a child her rare talent was recognized and opportunities for its development used to best advantage.

"She spent two years on the road as the contralto of a ladies' quartette in one of the leading concert companies. Since then she has studied vocal with Barnes at Rockford, Castle of Iowa and finally with McDermid of Chicago, whose wife, Sibyl Sammis, is one of the leading prima donnas in this country. She is also a skillful pianist and pipe organist.

"Mrs. Goodsell is well known in Clinton, where she comes frequently to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ames. However, her visits are usually very brief as aside from her regular work she is very often called on to sing at entertainments and various social functions in Dixon and elsewhere. Her ambition and delight in the work together with her talent has won her high place in the music world. Personally, she is a most charming young woman and has a wide circle of admiring friends in her home city and elsewhere. Her husband, Mr. Elbert H. Goodsell, who was formerly in business in Clinton, is a leading business man in Dixon."

excluding those in the Schirwindt region, there is complete confidence that General Hinderburg will soon be able to report a decisive victory. The Russian positions are considered unfavorable, both on account of the nature of the ground and because such a great force is concentrated in a comparatively small territory. Interest in the western situation is secondary for the time being.

Vienna reports successes in Poland, including the occupation of Tarnow and Wlodzička, and the taking of 7,000 prisoners.

Jacob P. Prickett Dead.

cold wet weather.

INCINERATING CORPSES.

It is reported that a large blast furnace at Charleroi, Belgium, is working night and day incinerating the corpses of German soldiers.

SERBIAN PENALS.

The Khedive of Egypt has joined the Turkish forces in Palestine preparatory to leading an invasion of Egypt.

GERMANS FAIL.

Semi-official reports from Petrograd state that new attempts on the part of the Germans to close in on Warsaw failed with heavy losses for the Teutonic allies.

CONSCRIPTION LOOMING

In four days Manchester, England, a city of 600,000 population, has supplied only 400 recruits and the newspapers say that a conscription is looming.

WANT CLOTHING.

The British-French agent at New York has advertised for $2,500,000 worth of woolen gloves, socks and sweaters, for which he will pay cash.

London, Nov. 21.—The significant news from the eastern battle front is that the Russians are continuing their attack in East Prussia and in southwest Poland. These far advanced movements could not be maintained if the Germans had broken the Russian center in their new and powerful advance from Thorn through northwest Poland.

This estimate of the situation is made by military critics from an analysis of the official Russian and German reports, supplemented by unofficial news from Petrograd and Berlin. There is no doubt whatever that the genius of General Von Hindenburg, probably the ablest commander who has appeared on the German side, has found the men and the method to endanger gravely the whole Russian line, but it is equally certain that the Germans have so far been able only to press back the Russian center and not to break it. So long as the Grand Duke Nicholas can hold a defensive position between the Warthe and the Vistula, keeping his line from the Baltic to the Carpathians intact, although far from straight, military writers concede that he can continue his invasion of East Prussia and maintain his advance against Cracow.

No Decisive Result.

The German government claims no vital success in the operations at the center and there is no irreconcilable difference between the official German and official Russian statements. The outstanding feature of the fighting in the most important region, Russian Poland, between Thorn and Warsaw, is that the great battle continues with no decisive result in sight. Upon the outcome of that battle depends whether or not the Russians must withdraw from East Prussia and from before Cracow (a necessary outcome of a defeat in northwest Poland) or whether or not the Germans will be able to advance once more to the Vistula and invest Warsaw, after driving every Russian soldier from German soil.

Russia states officially that her troops are resisting determinedly in Poland, which is an indication that the retreat has stopped and that the Russians have reached a defense line chosen by the commander in chief. The German government states that the operations are progressing and finds reason to believe that the Russians will make a stand against a frontal attack. It may be many days before the issue will be determined.

Germans Try to Drive Wedge.

A dispatch from Petrograd says that the Germans are renewing their aggressive attack in Russian Poland from the direction of Kalisz, Thorn and Rypin, on both sides of the Vistula. According to information from a high authority in Petrograd, it is apparent that they are trying to drive a wedge toward Warsaw. They are now probably about six miles from Lodz and about twelve miles from Lowicz.

A general survey of reports received in Petrograd seems to show that the Germans have met with a temporary check in Poland and that the Russian advance in East Prussia and against Cracow has been slowed by the furious resistance of the Germans in the vicinity of Angerburg and of the Austrians defending Cracow. On all sides there is virtually a deadlock which can be broken only by a great victory in any one of the vast areas of fighting. There is a report in Petrograd that three German attacks delivered on Thursday against the Russian positions along the River Bzura were repulsed by the Russian artillery and that the Germans lost heavily in killed and wounded. It is officially announced in Petrograd that the Russians have reached the wire entanglements of the German position east of Angerburg and have broken through at some points, capturing cannon and prisoners.

INDEPENDENT AT SIXTY

E. C. Thompson, in a contribution to the Rollins Magazine, points out how, by proper self-denial in expenditures, any man, with a moderate income, can find himself at sixty possessed of sufficient means to live without work if necessary. Unless a man does save, he may, under present social conditions, "find himself face to face with a very serious condition." Life insurance is good as a protection to those who are depending on him, but if, through age or infirmity, he loses the ability to earn money, and has no income from savings, a man finds himself "dependent perhaps on the very ones whom he had hoped to protect by his insurance."

Mr. Thompson believes that about nine men out of ten save nothing, their excuse being that "it takes about all I make to pay my expenses," the blame being commonly put on "the high cost of living." So far from its being a necessity for a man to spend all he earns in order to live, Mr. Thompson believes that "in these days of high wages and high prices, large profits and large living expenses, there is overflowing opportunity for the thrifty man such as the world never before witnessed." Few men today, earning even what are considered small wages, should fail at sixty, in his judgment, to have at least $20,000; a sum which, invested at 5 per cent, would yield an annual income of $1,000. To take another case, a man of thirty earning $3,000 a year, ought so to regulate his expenses that by the time he is sixty he will not have less than $60,000. Other interesting points in the article are these:

"There is no man, married or single, who cannot revise his expenses and save money. Any man with sense enough to go in when it rains knows whether his income warrants his present standard of living. If it does not he should have the moral courage to cut down his expenses. It may be that he will have to give up some things that have come to seem like necessities. It may be he will have to move out of the house, and even out of the neighborhood where he has been living. He may have to give up pleasant associations. But be the sacrifices what they may he will find that once made they are by no means as great as his imagination had pictured them.

"They will save him from years of infinitely greater sacrifice and humiliation. The man who makes this move in time will gain all that he gives up, and more, for he will have the satisfaction of feeling solid ground under his feet, and of knowing that he is all that he pretends to be, and not a sham and a humbug. The question as to how much should be saved would require a different answer for each individual case. A table is presented here that will assist any man who will apply it to his own case. Saving one dollar each year and keeping the whole amount saved at compound interest at 5 per cent will produce:

$13.21 in ten years.
$22.66 in fifteen years.
$34.72 in twenty years.
$50.11 in twenty-five years.
$69.76 in thirty years.
$94.84 in thirty-five years.
$126.84 in forty years.

"Using this table it will be found that a person who will begin when twenty years of age and save only $150 a year will have $5208 at forty years of age, $10,460 at fifty, and $19,026 at sixty."

OUR NEXT MAYOR.

Mayor Brinton does not say that he is a candidate for re-election, but he does not say that he will not serve if he is re-elected and the people of Dixon will miss a bet if they fail to force him to run again. There is no room for argument, even if anyone were disposed to argue the matter. Look back over the list of things the Colonel has done for Dixon and then ask yourself whether you can afford to do without his work. As far as that goes, what he has done during the past three and a half years is enough to entitle him to another term as Mayor, even if he never accomplished another thing. Dixon owes that much to Mayor Brinton. We do not believe that any Dixonite will have the poor taste to come out as a candidate against him. Mayor Brinton should be re-elected without opposition. The Telegraph has not always agreed with him and he probably quite often disagrees with us, but we know Dixon never had a better Mayor and we do not know of a Dixonite who would make a better one. That is why we want to see him back in the executive's chair after the coming city election. Dixon will be the loser if he is not put there.

AN ECHO OF THE PAST.

From somewhere back in the dark past comes rumbling down to us the echo of a long-forgotten movement. We seem to remember an agitation for a city garbage removal system. How about it, gentlemen of the city commission? Was there not a promise that when the pavements were all in and the city improvements completed, the garbage question would be investigated and a system installed?

The pavements are completed now. There is nothing left to occupy your minds but the approaching elections. Would it not be a fitting finish for this term in office that has been so successful and so commendable to give the people of Dixon this thing which they have asked for and which the city sorely needs?

The time to get to work on the problem is now. A suitable reduction plant should be purchased and installed and the system worked out to be put in operation early in the spring.

CONSOLIDATE THE HIGH SCHOOLS.

When the people of Dixon consolidate the North and South Side high schools Dixon will have a high school that will be well worth advertising. It amounts to extravagance and an economic waste to delay this action. It should have taken place years ago.

A CREDITABLE EFFORT.

The young men and women of Dixon high school staged an entertainment in Dixon last evening that was a great credit to themselves and their training. The show was well worth anyone's money to see. Many of the students displayed remarkable talent.

Rippling Rhymes

By Walt Mason

OLD STANDBYS.

in cozy inglenooks we read the recent books, of which there are a million, which tell how Reggie boy assures his future joy by wedding lovely Lillian. The weird detective tale, whose plot, though slightly stale, in every chapter thickens; and every now and then, tired out, we turn again, to Thackeray and Dickens. Ods fish, and eke gadzooks! What endless piles of books the publishers are printing! The stories "true to life," which treat of erring wife, at sinful manners blating; the yarns of rounders bold, whose reckless arms enfold the painted chorus chickens; and weary, sad and sore, at last we turn once more to Thackeray and Dickens. We find the raw romance which deals with high finance, or lurches and of lurchers; the western type of rot, where handlets are kept hot by boozy cattle punchers. The books are piled in ricks, the tales of politics, which give us slender pickin's; and ever and anon, we turn with stifled yawn, to Thackeray and Dickens. We long for books that count, for stories that amount to something more than tinker; the volumes we receive are only fit to heave outdoors, through door or dinder. The publishers won't pay much heed to what we say, they all ignore our kickin's, and when for Books we yearn, we simply have to turn to Thackeray and Dickens.

Father Foley Spoke At Sterlind Banquet Board

Rev. Father Foley of this city was one of the speakers at the annual banquet given by the Catholic societies of Sterling Thursday evening, and the Standard of that city has the following to say concerning the Dixon clergyman:

Rev. Michael Foley of Dixon, was the next speaker. In his introductory remarks he switched his subject from "Our Catholic Schools" to "The Relationship Between Dixon and Sterling" and was clever in his wit, picturing the rivalry between the two places in certain things. In entering upon his subject proper, the speaker had many good things as well as helpful things to say of the Catholic school system and what it is doing for the children of Catholic parents, building them up to be strong men and women in the faith of the Catholic church. He paid a high compliment to the church in Sterling and to Father Burns in what he accomplished in the way of the splendid structure in which the delightful occasion was being held. "Our children are afforded the opportunity to grow up to be strong men and women," said the speaker, "becoming a great force in the world, because of the opportunity given them to gain a knowledge of Jesus Christ."

LOST END OF FINGER AT PLANT

Mason Hildebrand met with a painful accident at the cement plant, when the tip of one of his fingers got caught in one of the big machines and the end of his finger was almost completely torn off.

DIXON, ILLINOIS

WISCONSIN EXPERT SPOKE ON DAIRYING

spent some time yesterday afternoon and today visiting the dairy farms in this vicinity and consulting with local herd owners concerning the feeding of the stock, care of the herds, etc.

The expert will be left here in the good work he is doing.

Professor Humphries stated last evening that dairying is one of the best and most profitable lines of farming that can be taken up, and when it is worked upon a scientific basis. He emphasized the need of sanitation, scientific feeding, care of the herds, breeding, etc.

The "leaks" on a dairy farm came in for a good share of discussion and the speaker enumerated the many leaks, often unnoticed, that represent the loss of profit to the dairyman. He told how to find them and how to stop them, and if his advice could be given to every dairyman in Illinois and if it were followed by them, a great saving would be accomplished.

PROBLEM OF FEED.

The problem of feed was dealt upon by the speaker in detail. He said that many dairymen make the mistake of feeding their cows feed that would not produce milk, such as timothy hay and nothing else at times, and then wondered why the milk production fell off. Other farmers feed their cows too much. He said, "Remember the feed is the source of the milk, the cow is not. The cows may be the best in the land, but they will not produce milk unless they are fed a milk producing food."

The expert also said that dairy cows must not be allowed to fall down in their milk production even for a short period, because the work of getting them back to normal is very difficult.

Every dairyman in this vicinity should have heard Professor Humphries' lecture.

JUDGE HEARD FINES NORTHWESTERN ROAD

Judge O. E. Heard rendered a decision in favor of the Village of Franklin Grove in their suit against the Chicago & Northwestern Railway company to compel the railway company to erect and maintain life gates at three street crossings within the limits of Franklin Grove. The case was tried in the circuit court several weeks ago.

Judge Heard held that the ordinance providing for the erection of gates by the railway company on Sycamore, Elm and State streets was not unreasonable but that the ordinance providing for a lift gate at Spring street was unreasonable. He also imposed a fine of $150 on the railway company for their non-compliance with the provisions of the ordinance.

MEXICO CITY IS OPEN FOR VILLA

General Obregon Evacuates Capital to Advancing Fee.

OCCUPATION TO COME SUNDAY

Supreme Chief Carranza and His Generals Have Taken Positions at Eastern and Western Coast—Zapata Approaches from South—More Fighting at Naco.

El Paso, Nov. 21.—General Alvaro Obregon, one of Carranza's chief commanders of troops, has evacuated Mexico City with his army, leaving only two regiments of cavalry to keep order. This leaves the city open to occupation by General Villa's army which, according to press dispatches, continued pouring into Queretaro. Holding the capital and keeping strong forces throughout the north clear to the border, General Villa expressed the belief that he would be able, with little effort, to compel the surrender of all hostile forces.

Despite surprises at the evacuation of Mexico City and the abandonment of Queretaro the day previous by General Pablo Gonzales, officials attached to General Villa's headquarters state that shortage of war munitions probably accounted for the action of the constitutionalist commanders.

Carranza Is Near Ports.

It is reported in Queretaro that General Obregon is moving his army to the west coast of Mexico, leaving the eastern half of the republic to Generals Ales and Candido Aguilar, together with General Venustiano Carranza and his brother, General Jesus Carranza. The eastern commanders will trust to receiving reinforcements for the present through Puerto Mexico and through Tampico, which Villa is now endeavoring to capture. The eastern division also holds the ports of Piedras Negras and Nuevo Laredo along the Texas border through which arms and ammunition can be secured.

Villa in Capital Sunday.

The Villa army, moving in to Queretaro, will continue its movement into Mexico City, which should be occupied, if no unexpected resistance develops, not later than Sunday. Every effort will be made, staff officers say, to place a large force of troops in the national capital before any serious disturbances can develop.

With the entry of Villa's army to the vicinity of the capital, a union is expected to be effected with the armies of General Zapata, which are operating east, west and south of Mexico City and one of which compelled the surrender of the stronghold of Puebla. The eastern Zapata army will move against Cordoba and Orizaba where General Venustiano Carranza now has his headquarters.

In the meantime Villa's eastern army, under command of General Mariano Sarin, was steadily forcing its way from San Luis Potosi, capital of the state of that name, toward the export of Tampico, which is held by a large constitutionalist garrison.

More Fighting at Naco.

Reports from Naco, Ariz., told of more skirmish fighting between the armies of General Benjamin Hill, entrenched in Naco, Sonora, and the Villa troops of Governor Jose M. Maytorena attacking the town. There were few casualties.

U. S. WILL HAVE DIRIGIBLES

Government Makes Contract for Six War Balloons.

Akron, O., Nov. 21.—The United States government has placed a contract with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company of this city for the construction of six or more dirigible airships, suitable for offensive or defensive work in time of war.

Plans for the construction of the first of the big air craft are complete. The air ship will be ready within six months. It will be equipped with machine guns, wireless apparatus, two powerful engines, oxygen tanks and air pumps and will have a raising capacity of 12,000 pounds. It will carry a crew of twelve men.

The big dirigible craft will be 165 feet long and 45 feet in diameter.

COMMISSION FORM OF GOVERNMENT IS SUCCESS IN DAYTON

CITY MANAGER WAITE TOLD NATIONAL LEAGUE OF THE PLAN.

SECURE GREAT EFFICIENCY

Political Faith Is Not Considered in the Selection of the Heads of Departments.

(Associated Press.) Baltimore, Nov. 20.—"The Commission-Manager Plan of Government in the light of experience" was discussed by Henry M. Waite, city manager of Dayton, Ohio, at today's session of the National Municipal League. He declared this new form of city government was a success and in answer to his own question as to whether it could be a permanent success, he said:

"Its permanency depends upon intelligent citizenship, and their continued determination to keep partisan politics out of municipal affairs."

The Dayton plan of five commissioners at large and non-partisan, has resulted in the election of sound business men, he said. They selected the manager, and the latter selected the directors of the five departments—law, finance, welfare, service, and safety.

"I cannot tell you the political faith of the commissioners or the directors," he said. "They are selected for their ability."

"In our finance department," he continued, "our new accounting system is the same as would be found in any large business. Our budget is scientific. Every month the head of each department receives a complete financial statement which shows the original allowance, expenditures and balance in each account. We keep our expenditures inside our allowances."

"In August, we found that our estimated revenues were too high. With our system of accounting and budget, we were enabled, in two days to reduce expenditures $45,000, and reorganize all work accordingly."

He told how police women were aiding in the handling of women delinquents and domestic troubles; how the fire department was continually making house to house inspections to reduce the fire hazard; how duplication of effort had been saved by combining all philanthropic and city nursing into the welfare department; how citizens had "turned four hundred dirty spots into four hundred gardens," and numerous other steps in city improvements.

"These new forms of municipal government have many ups and downs ahead of them," he said. "Our duty is to educate the people to appreciate these new forms of government we have called into being."

"Publicity must be given to the results obtained by the new governments. We must obtain an efficient citizenship. Interest should be maintained through the schools. We need fewer elections, longer terms, and thereby greater efficiency."

NEGRO QUESTIONED ON FINDING PURSE

away.

The stories of several persons who went to the Aurora police station voluntarily have led the officials to this piece together the solution to the mystery. It was declared by Chief Nichols that the home of the slayer and his wife was in the neighborhood of the place of death and the chief hinted that the apprehension of the man and woman was imminent.

Woman Heard Slayer.

Most important of the stories told was that of Mrs. E. W. Scott, 23 S. West street, Aurora. She came to the police station during the afternoon voluntarily and declared that she could throw some light on the murderer. She stated that she was passing the Free Methodist church about 8 o'clock on the night of the slaying and that a man rushed past her muttering to himself:

"Oh, my God! what have I done?" "The man was of middle weight and wore a dark sweater," Mrs. Scott said. When he saw me he attempted to dodge. He appeared half crazy, and continued to run on down Clark street."

to the ground unconscious, her skull crushed in. For one instant as the woman's face turned upward her assailant the man saw that it was not his wife. The horror of his deed cleared his brain and he rushed

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Search is being directed, Captain O'Brien states, for an employee of the Illinois Central railroad in connection with the Jennie Miller murder at Aurora Wednesday night. Although Captain O'Brien would not say what position he held, the man is believed to be a negro.

New Clue in the Aurora Case.

Possibility of robbery having been the motive for the brutal murder of Miss Miller, who died in a hospital there as the result of an assault with a monkey wrench, was strengthened when an empty hand bag, known to have been carried by the victim, was turned over to Captain of Detectives W. P. O'Brien of Chicago.

Says He Expects Arrests.

Emerging from the room for a few moments Captain O'Brien said that he expected arrests in connection with the murder within a short time. He refused to say on what information such arrests were to be made, or whether or not such action was planned in connection with the recovery of the hand bag.

The hand bag was given to Captain O'Brien at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon by George K. Murray, assistant special agent for the Illinois Central railroad. He said that it had been turned over to him by one of his agents who lives in Aurora. He said that this agent found the hand bag near the scene of the fatal assault the day after Miss Miller was found fatally injured. It contained several of Miss Miller's cards and a number of pennies.

The hand bag was turned over to Chief Nichols, who had arrived from Aurora late in the day, who planned to have relatives of Miss Miller try to identify it.

Found Near Death Spot.

"Instead of turning the hand bag over to the Aurora authorities the agent turned it over to me when he arrived in Chicago," Mr. Murray told Captain O'Brien. "He told me that he found it near the spot where Miss Miller suffered her fatal injuries. It

BAILEY TALKS ON JUVENILE LIFE

What will we do for the children of our home and for those whose loved ones may be departed from them, or perhaps, to my mind a worse calamity, the parents' indifference.

A mother eagle was once seen, pushing an eaglet out over a precipice. How the little bird tried to fly; but when the mother saw the youngster was too small to fly with a mighty swoop, she went beneath it, caught it on her back and brought it back to its nest in the rocks to wait a day or so to give it another lesson. Thus our young people must be shoved out and given a chance, but there protection and protecting.

Era of Simplicity.

The time was when the church and the Sabbath school presented enough instruction and inspiration to carry them through the following week. But the era of simplicity is gone. Ours is an age of press, hurry and bustle. Our young folks are so busy reading they have no time for thinking. Earth's saddest scene is the spectacle of ruined youth in our cities.

Stronger Home Ties.

My suggestions are to you to assist in protecting our young. There would be a campaign for stronger home ties. The number of young people on our streets in the evening is startling. Is business so pressing that fathers have no time to interest the boy in home life; is motherhood so burdened with outside duties that she has no time for the protection of the girls? I do not know as I believe in the curfew law. I think it is excellent if it can be made to do its work, but I fear it is not practical. But if we are to have men of the hour and women of the age in the coming generation we must keep the boys and girls at home.

Play Life.

I come to another thought—play life. There was a time when children knew how to play, but they do not know how at this time. If I know of one need in Dixon at the present time it is not more fine buildings, though that is most commendable; it is not now churches, nor more paying, but it is curbing the untrained wreckless shiftless play life of the boys and girls. Give them a place to play with a systematic line of plays.

Censor Pictures.

Another suggestion—a stricter censorship of the motion pictures. And in conclusion let me suggest this one thought that must be in inspiration of our service in the protection of the boys and girls. For when we have built the body and educated the youth for self support and satisfied the taste with the beautiful, it remains for us to say that man's next hunger—and therefore the boy's also for he is but an undeveloped man—

GERMAN LOSSES 1,250,000

This Does Not Include 500,000 Sick—Casualties 980,000.

London, Nov. 21.—Berlin military circles estimate that the German losses to date at 1,250,000 in killed, wounded and missing, according to a Copenhagen dispatch received here.

This estimate, it is declared, does not include at least a half million sick. The actual casualty lists, including those of Saxony, Wuertemberg and Bavaria, admit losses of 980,000.

SHOT AT LAUNCH WAS UNFREINDLY

CAPT. DECKER REPORTS ON TURKISH FORT SHOTS AT U. S. BOAT.

(Associated Press.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—Captain Decker of the United States cruiser Tennessee has reported to the navy department that the firing on the ship's launch by the Turkish forts at Smyrna was not intended as a hostile act.

Later Sec. Daniels said that a portion of Capt. Decker's report was not made public at the time it was received because it was considered as contradictory.

The dispatch contained the words, "The act was not hostile but was unfriendly."

The navy department omitted the contradictory phrase in order to verify the dispatch and today the word came that the original message was correct.

An investigation is being made and Turkey will be asked to explain.

The Trey O' Hearts

Like a guilty thing, on feet as noiseless as any sneak thief, she crept from the room, closed the door silently, ran down the hall and descended by a back way, a little-used staircase, to the lower hall, approaching the scene of the marriage.

Constructed in imitation of an old Spanish mission chapel, it contained one of the finest organs in the world; at this close range its deep-throated tones vied with the warnings of the storm. Judith, lurking in a passage-way whose open door revealed the altar steps and chancel, was shaken to the very marrow of her being by the majestic reverberations of the music.

Since they had regained contact with civilization in a section of the country where the Law estate had vast holdings of land, the chapel was thronged with men and women who had known Alan's father and wished to honor his son.

Above stairs, in the room Judith had quitted, Seneca Trine opened both eyes wide and laughed a silent laugh of savage triumph when the door closed behind his daughter.

At last he was left to his own devices—and at a time the most fitting imaginable for what he had in mind.

With a grin, Seneca Trine raised both arms and stretched them wide apart.

Then, grasping the arms of his chair, he lifted himself from it and stood trembling upon his own feet for the first time in almost twenty years.

Grasping the back of the wheeled chair, he used it as a crutch to guide his feeble and uncertain movements. But these became momentarily stronger and more confident.

This, then, was the secret he had hugged to his embittered bosom, a secret unsuspected even by the attending surgeon; that through the motor accident three days ago he had regained the use of limbs that had been stricken motionless—strangely enough, by a motor car—nearly two decades since.

Slowly but surely moving to the bureau in the room, he opened one of its drawers and took out something he had, without her knowledge, seen Judith put away there while she thought he slept.

Then, with this hidden in the pocket of his dressing gown he steered a straight if very deliberate course to the door, let himself out, and like a materialized specter of the man he once had been, navigated the corridor to the head of the broad central staircase and step by step, clinging with both hands, negotiated the descent.

The lobby of the hotel was deserted. As the ceremony approached its end every guest and servant in the house was crowding the doorway to the chapel. None opposed the progress of this ghastly vision in dressing gown and slippers, chuckling insanely to himself as he tottered through the empty halls and corridors, finding an almost supernatural strength to sustain him till he found himself face to face with his chosen enemy and victim.

The first that blocked his way into the chapel, a bellboy of the hotel, looked round at the first touch of the claw-like hand upon his shoulder and shrank back with a cry of terror—a cry that was echoed from half a dozen throats within another instant.

As if from the path of some grisly visitant from the world beyond the grave, the throng pressed back and cleared a way for Seneca Trine, father of the bride.

And as the way opened and he looked up toward the altar and saw Alan standing hand in hand with Rose while the minister invoked a blessing upon the union that had been but that instant cemented, added strength, the strength of the insane, was given to Seneca Trine.

When Alan, annoyed by the disturbance in the body of the chapel, looked round, it was to see the aged maniac standing within a dozen feet of him; and as he looked and cried out in wonder, Trine whipped a revolver from the pocket of his dressing gown and swung it steadily to bear upon Alan's head.

At that instant the storm broke with infernal fury upon the land. A crash of thunder so heavy and prolonged that it seemed to rock the very building upon its foundations, accompanied the shattering of a huge stained-glass window.

A bolt of bluish flame of dazzling brilliance slashed through the window like a flaming sword and smote the pistol in the hand of Seneca Trine, discharging the weapon even as it struck him dead.

As he fell the bolt swerved and struck two others down—Alan Law and the woman who had just been made his wife.

CHAPTER LIV.

The Wife.

Again three days elapsed; and Judith, returning from the double funeral of her father and sister, doffed her mourning for a gown less somber and more suited to the atmosphere of a sickroom, then relieved the nurse in charge of Alan.

He remained as he had been ever since the falling of the thunderbolt—in absolute coma.

But he lived, and—or the physicians believed—must soon regain consciousness. Kneeling beside his bedside Judith prayed long and earnestly.

When she arose it was to answer a tap upon the door. She admitted Tom Barcus and suffered him to lead her into the recess of the window, (To be continued.)

D. 1915, on the following terms, to-wit: ten per cent of the purchase price to be paid by the purchaser at the time of the sale and the balance to be paid upon the confirmation of the report thereof by the Court.

Dated this 7th day of November, A. D. 1914.

FRANK L. YOUNG, Administrator With Will Annexed of the Estate of Francis Miller, Deceased.

WEST BROOKLYN

A hearty welcome awaits you at the annual Thanksgiving ball given by the Firemen.

Paul Halbmaier was in West Brooklyn on business Tuesday afternoon.

Gust Wiser of Amboy was visiting with his relatives and friends in and near West Brooklyn on last Wednesday.

Charles Clopine of Viola township was in town on Wednesday forenoon.

M. J. Bieschke was in Chicago several days this week buying goods for the store.

Joseph J. Barr was a visitor in West Brooklyn on last Tuesday afternoon.

Amel Henry motored to Amboy on Monday. His wife, who had been visiting with relatives for a few days, returned to West Brooklyn with him.

Christ July was in West Brooklyn on Wednesday forenoon transacting business.

Henry W. Gehant was a visitor in Mendota on last Wednesday, where he disposed of one of his drivers to horse buyers.

Charles Barnickel was in town on business Tuesday.

The executive committee in charge of the local program of the Lee County Farmers' Institute held a meeting on Tuesday night to further the arrangements for the institute to be held on December 10 and 11 in West Brooklyn.

Mrs. Margarette Monaghan has taken rooms at the hotel and will make her home there for the present.

For the past several years she has been living with her son Frank and family north of Compton.

Hunters had best enquire of the occupant of a farm before starting to hunt these days. Many of the farmers are determined to prevent hunting upon their premises and have been publishing notices and posting signs to that effect.

F. D. Gehant received a big consignment of hunting coats Tuesday evening. The style and quality of the coats made such a hit with his customers that many were sold during the first few days they were displayed.

Adolph Bauer was in town from his home in Lee Center township on Monday.

Andrew Barlow of Amboy was the guest of his many relatives and friends in West Brooklyn on Monday.

Theodore has been a very busy person this past season and tells us that besides raising a handsome garden he has a patch of clover and a patch of alfalfa firmly started and from which he expects to harvest a big crop next year. He also is in the poultry industry.

Edward Henry received and unloaded a carload of Ford automobiles—touring cars and runabouts—Tuesday, which were placed in his garage for the retail trade. He expects to dispose of the entire carload before long and if the winter weather is favorable expects to dispose of at least fifteen cars before spring. Last winter the weather would not permit these early sales but two years ago he sold a large number of the cars during mid-winter.

Ed V. Bauer was in West Brooklyn transacting business Tuesday. We are very glad to report his wife as recovering nicely from her attack of blood poisoning and that she is able to be up and around and attend to her household duties. She still is unable to place a shoe upon her affected foot but has hopes of being able to do this before long.

Harry Christiance was here from Dixon Monday.

Fred Schroeder of Amboy received payment for the loss of a fine cow killed by lightning several weeks ago, but only discovered a few days ago, from the insurance department of the Henry W. Gehant Banking company, through whose agency they carry insurance.

S. R. Taylor of the Flatts was a visitor in West Brooklyn last Wednesday.

Frank Hoggard made a business trip to Dixon this week but after returning to West Brooklyn is not decided as yet whether he will locate in that city or go elsewhere. Frank says he may yet decide to locate upon the farm. We trust he may yet decide to remain in West Brooklyn.

Here's a snap. House and two lots for sale in West Brooklyn. Worth $2400, selling for $1400. For particulars see H. F. Gehant.

Have you taken notice of the posters announcing the Firemen's annual Thanksgiving ball, to be held in the opera house on Nov. 25th, the eve of Thanksgiving?

The ladies who are busying themselves in an endeavor to make the Domestic Science department of the Farmers Institute a bigger success than ever before attained in the county, are boasting of an exceptionally fine list of prizes to offer in their department as a result of their several canvasses during the past week. Certainly there are a number of hustlers in charge of this work and our warning to the men folks is to beware of else the ladies will have the best program when next month rolls around.

For Sale: White Wyandotte cockerels. Lawn Ridge Poultry Yard.

Miss Susie McIntyre was a visitor with friends in West Brooklyn Tuesday.

Several persons from West Brooklyn were over to Sublette on Wednesday to visit the dedication ceremonies of the new Catholic school building there.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McCrear entertained several of our young people at their home west of town on Sunday evening in honor of their daughter, Gladys. A pleasant evening was spent amidst the serving of refreshments, dainties and the playing of various games.

M. J. Haas has erected a handsome electrically illuminated "Garage" sign in front of the General garage, which attracts the eye of these entering Main street from either way. It is one of the intermittent sort, being lighted one instant and dark the next minute.

John and Mathias Haub were visitors in West Brooklyn on Tuesday afternoon.

The carpenters tore away the old ice house in the rear of F. M. Youm's building on Tuesday. They also did some repair work to the south entrance of the flat occupied by the telephone exchange.

A quiet tip: "The Firemen's dance will be the best they have had in years," so you better make up your mind to attend.

Miss May Gehant will arrive in West Brooklyn on Saturday evening from St. Joseph's Seminary at Kankakee to spend the Thanksgiving holidays with her folks.

Mrs. Mary Walter is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Otto Koehler of Sublette, this week.

James A. Phelan was in town Tuesday on business.

B. J. Long put ice in his new ice house Tuesday. He received the shipment from Mendota which consisted of a supply large enough to last him until the ice harvest this winter.

Frank Halbmaier Jr. had the misfortune to break his arm recently while assisting his brother to dismantle the corn elevator and dump after finishing with the corn husking for the present season. It was a severe break and will require a considerable length of time in which to knit again. We hope it will heal so as to give him no bother in later life and not leave the arm weak.

Stage Manager—Remember Banks we are depending upon your baby to cry lustily in the third act. Do you think he'll do his part?

Actor Father—He ought to. He's been rehearsing every night for months.

Crawford—"Women want to wear things just because the other women are wearing them."

Crabshaw—"That may be so, but my wife seems to be trying to get along with just a little less."

STEWART

The teacher had given the class a talk on household pests.

"What, now, is the greatest foe the housewife has?" she asked.

"Up went one little hand.

"All right, Mary, what is it?"

"A husband," was the quick reply.

Tommy—I want another box of those pills, like I got for mother yesterday.

Druggist—Did your mother say they were good?

Tommy—No, but they just fit my airgun.

REMARKABLE CASE of Mrs. HAM

Declares Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her Life and Sanity.

Shamrock, Mo.—"I feel it my duty to tell the public the condition of my health before using your medicine. I had falling, inflammation and congestion female weakness, pains in both sides, backaches and bearing down pains, was short of memory, nervous, impatient, passed sleepless nights, and had neither strength nor energy. There was always a fear and dread in my mind, I had cold, nervous, weak spells, hot flashes over my body. I had a place in my right side that was so sore that I could hardly bear the weight of my clothes. I tried medicines and doctors, but they did me little good, and I never expected to get out again. I got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier, and I certainly would have been in grave or in an asylum if your medicines had not saved me. But now I can work all day, sleep well at night, eat anything I want, have no hot flashes or weak, nervous spells. All pains, aches, fears and dreads are gone, my house, children and husband are no longer neglected, as I am almost entirely free of the bad symptoms I had before taking your remedies, and all is pleasure and happiness in my home."—Mrs. JOSIE HAM, R. F. D. 1, Box 22, Shamrock, Missouri.

COMB SAGE TEA IN HAIR TO DARKEN IT

Grandma kept her locks dark, glossy, thick with a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.

HEARD IN DIXON

HOW BAD BACKS HAVE BEEN MADE STRONG—KIDNEY PILLS CORRECTED.

All over Dixon you hear it. Doan's Kidney Pills are keeping up the good work. Dixon people are telling about it—telling of backs made sound again. You can believe the testimony of your own townspeople. They tell it for the benefit of you who are suffering. If your back aches, if you feel lame, sore and miserable, if the kidneys act too frequently, or passages are painful, scanty or off color, use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy that has helped so many of your friends and neighbors. Follow this Dixon citizen's advice and give Doan's a chance to do the same for you.

Mrs. J. Helfrich, R. F. D. No. 4, Dixon, says: "While I have never taken Doan's Kidney Pills myself I can strongly recommend them and I am glad to confirm the public statement one of my family gave in their praise some years ago. For a long time he suffered from irregular action of his kidneys. He also had a backache and found relief only when he used Doan's Kidney Pills, that he got at Leake Bros' Drug store. They stopped the pain and restored his kidneys to a normal condition."

Mrs. Helfrich is only one of many Dixon people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy, ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Helfrich recommends—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props.,

Lame—Remember the Name."

COAL, WOOD and KINDLING

You can secure the best results when baking with a steady, even fire. Pyrolite is clean, even-burning and requires little attention. It gives a long, sootless flame that keeps the whole oven hot—so necessary for good baking.

There's another thing you'll like about Pyrolite when you bake —it's clean.

Premium Oleomargarine can always be used wherever butter is used for table or cooking purposes; with equal satisfactory results.

Made of all pure vegetables and animal oil, and mixed with enough fancy butter to give it a good color and flavor. It is always uniform in salt, color, flavor and keeping qualities. In fact it looks like butter, tastes like butter and answers the same purpose of butter and retails at 25c per lb. That is better than butter.
